EXCITING NEWS FROM THE SERENGETI

Walking inside the boundaries of Serengeti National Park.

For the first time together with our partner in Tanzania, we are officially allowed to enjoy walking within the Serengeti National Park. This has never been done before within the Serengeti National Park boundaries....until now.

With our professional guides with years of experience under their belt, you will be walking east of Seronera [Central Serengeti], a huge area which is not used for game driving where you will find rock kopjes, hidden valleys and rolling woodlands. Can you imagine the excitement of walking in The Serengeti!

For those who love a Tanzanian adventure, this trip is going to be a thrill – something for the record books. You will be able to get much closer to absolutely everything – from looking at a foot print near a waterhole, viewing the smaller creatures of The Serengeti, learning about the traditional plants, to the big animals we Safari goers can not get enough off. Do not worry; you will be accompanied by armed rangers.

Walking in the Serengeti is about walking slowly so as not to disturb the wildlife. You will use this time to sit on a kopje and observe the impala or occasionally get your heart racing as you watch a larger animal ...yup, the elephant or lion.

We recommend spending a minimum of 3 nights in our mobile camps when walking in Serengeti. Light and low impact tents, aluminum beds, bug proof dining tents, solar lighting and eco- bathrooms are going to be used – we want to keep this area pristine as well as have the flexibility to relocate every day.

Karibu Sana Serengeti and Tanzania!
